Description:

For the 2017 model year, Aston Martin built a special model limited to 150 units to mark the end of the V8 Vantage series. The Vantage GT8 was developed as a support vehicle for the victory in the GTE-Pro class at Le Mans. With great effort, the GT8 was made 100 kilograms lighter than the normal V8 Vantage and visually and technically based on the GT4 race car. Numerous parts made of carbon and magnesium contributed to the weight reduction.

This GT8 No. 82 is one of four cars that do not have a large rear wing. Many extras, such as the automated 7-speed gearbox or the special paint in "Quantum silver", make this Vantage GT8 a bit more unique. Also very expensive were the magnesium pads that Aston Martin offered as an extra.

The car has only 2 owners and was delivered new in Düsseldorf, it has received all maintenance at Aston Martin. All documents and invoices from the lifetime of the car are present. Only 6000 km mileage!
