Description:

The Mercedes SLS AMG GT is already on its way to becoming a legend. The sports car built between 2010 and 2014 was the first model developed entirely by AMG and is based on its historical role model, the Mercedes 300 SL. At the end of production, Mercedes-AMG launched the GT-"Final Edition" special model, which was limited to 350 units. In addition to the increase in performance to 591 HP, the bonnet and decorative elements of the "Final Edition" are made of visible carbon.

The Mercedes was first registered in 2015 by a well-known industrialist and collector in mid Germany before its current owner acquired it in 2019. In this configuration, with its low mileage, this SLS is in collector's condition and is a rare opportunity.
