This rare Morris Mini Moke was one of only a few vehicles to be fitted with a removable Barton hardtop and was delivered to Israel in 1965 to an English journalist. According to the Mini Moke Club, this is probably the only one with ventilation flaps under the windscreen and the only left-hand drive car of the only 3 remaining.

This Moke was completely restored by a Moke specialist in England in recent years for around 40,000 euros and has not been driven since.

The Moke is well documented, history is known, Heritage Certificate comes with the vehicle as well as the documentation (invoices) of the restoration. TÜV and H licence plate new.
