Description:

The Porsche 993 is the successor to the Porsche 964. As the last model of the Porsche classic 911, it has a boxer engine with air cooling. The 993 was initially built as a Carrera with rear-wheel drive. The 993 Turbo, the top model in the 993 model series, came on the market in 1995 and can be recognised visually by its large fixed rear wing. In the 1996 model year, 2,484 units were produced.

The Porsche 993 Turbo offered here was first delivered to the USA in 1995. The car is in almost untouched original condition with its first paintwork! In 2008, the Porsche was re-imported to Germany by its current owner. The car has a total mileage of only 37,490 km! The history is fully documented. An on-board folder with original maintenance booklet comes with the car.
