Description:

The SL model series (R107) came onto the market in 1971 as the successor to the so-called "Pagode" (W 113). It established a new design at Mercedes-Benz with its broadband H4 headlights and large fluted tail lights. The appearance of the R107 characterised the Mercedes-Benz design of the 1970s. A total of 237,287 vehicles were produced between 1974 and 1989, of which only 13,742 were 300 SLs (R 107 E 30)!

According to the original registration, the vehicle was first registered in Sindelfingen near Stuttgart on 10 September 1986.

The further ownership history is fully documented on the basis of registrations and purchase contracts.

All on-board documents and a complete service history are available. A good opportunity to acquire an untouched original vehicle in an attractive colour scheme and with a low total mileage of just 56,690 km.
