Description:

The Porsche 930, better known as the 911 Turbo, was introduced in 1974 and offered from 1975 to 1989. Wide fenders, the distinctive rear spoiler and an air-cooled, turbocharged flat-six engine shaped its unmistakable appearance. The early 3.0-litre version was built until model year 1977. For model year 1978, the 3.3-litre version with intercooler followed. Of the early 3.0-litre series a total of 2,850 units were produced.

The 930 Coupé presented here was originally delivered to the USA and re-imported about ten years ago. It is a very original car that has been carefully part-restored on a first-class basis. During this work, Porsche specialists fully overhauled the original matching-numbers engine and refurbished the gearbox. Further technical components were also overhauled. A repaint was carried out in the original delivery colour silver. The interior was also refreshed. Total mileage is only 98,912 miles.

A rare opportunity to acquire one of the sought-after early 930 Coupés in first-class original condition.
