Description:

The 911 Carrera 3.2 succeeded the 911 SC for the 1984 model year and remained in production until 1989. Porsche offered it from 1984 with the M491 “Turbo Look” option: the wide wings, rear spoiler, chassis and brakes of the 911 Turbo, combined with the naturally aspirated 3.2-litre engine. In its first year, the factory Turbo Look was available exclusively as a coupé. In total, only around 3,640 cars were built with this code, including approx. 1,397 coupés, 559 Targas and 1,684 cabriolets.

The car was delivered to its first owner on 30 November 1984 via the Porsche dealership in Bakersfield, California, and was reimported to Germany around ten years ago. Here it was overhauled by a Porsche specialist on the basis of its first-class, untouched substance and converted to European specification. The owner’s wallet with service book and a Classic Data valuation report are available. A rare opportunity to acquire one of the coveted Carrera 3.2 models with factory Turbo Look (M491) in collector’s condition.

Engine: 6-cyl. boxer engine, 3,125 cc, 207 hp / 152 kW
